

VANCOUVER MODEL UNITED NATIONS

Diplomacy is not a spectator sport

Statement on Equity, Diversity, and Inclusion

Vancouver Model United Nations is committed to fostering a safe and productive environment for all participants, supporting our mission to provide an educational and enriching experience.

VMUN also recognizes the importance and efficacy of considering diverse experiences and perspectives in seeking to address the complex international problems debated at our conference.

In keeping with the above, VMUN strives to welcome all participants who may benefit from the VMUN experience, including those with disabilities, financial constraints, or other limitations.

Echoing Canada's own commitment to multiculturalism, VMUN is proud to accept participants with a range of national origins, ethnic backgrounds, sexual orientations, and political beliefs.

Cognizant of the diversity of our participants, VMUN aims to uphold the rights and dignity of all participants through the promotion of equitable and inclusive leadership and administration.

In support of this goal, VMUN is pleased to provide, during the conference, dedicated supports to advance equity, diversity, and inclusion, including staff trained in appropriate incident protocols.

The work of VMUN's staff in fulfilling our equity, diversity, and inclusion goals is also outstandingly supported by members of our senior leadership with central skills and expertise.

To ensure the success of VMUN's programme of excellence, we strongly encourage all participants, during the conference, to raise and discuss any relevant questions or concerns with our team.

For more information on VMUN's equity, diversity, and inclusion programme, please visit our website at vmun.com/contact, or reach out to the Secretary-General directly at sg@vmun.com.